Canadian Chinese Start Organizing Volunteer Corps

Will Send Force to Support Homeland if Manchuria Dispute Leads to War—Severe Economic Relations With Japan—Closely Watching Geneva Proceedings

CHINESE nationals in Victoria's "Little China" and other colonies throughout Canada are organizing a volunteer battalion of infantry, 1,000 strong, and an aviation corps to augment the forces along the Manchurian frontier.

Announcement to this effect was made by Chinese Nationals here yesterday. Leaders of the colony stated that support was coming from all parts of Canada and the general boycott of Japanese goods by Chinese has been followed up by a total severance of economic relationships with Japan.

SEVERE RELATIONS
A severe blow has been struck at the Japanese in Canada by this policy on the part of all long and political organizations, while severance of economic relationships with Japan has curtailed both export and import trade to a considerable degree. Twenty-five per cent of Chinese purchases were from Japan, leaders said.

While some centres, such as Windsor, Toronto and some organizations in Vancouver are urging the National Government to declare war against Japan, the majority of the colonies are adopting a waiting policy to see if the League of Nations will settle the dispute.

MAY URGE WAR
Unless something definite is decided by October 24, a large meeting of Chinese in this city and other colonies will be held to urge the National Government to declare war on the basis of "putting our backs to the wall and fighting for our national existence and recognition internationally of China as a nation."

Several thousand dollars has already been subscribed in Victoria to help China, while Windsor is conducting a campaign to raise $25,000 to equip an air corps. Other centres are pooling their resources to help their home land out in its emergency.

WILL DEFEND RIGHTS
The general feeling, however, is that China is not prepared to fight at the present time, but will do so if forced to defend her rights and prevent encroachment on her territory.

Students in "Little China" view the present trouble as a means to band the different provinces of China together against a common enemy. The ultimate outcome, it is felt, will be to consolidate the different provinces into one harmonious nation.

SETTLEMENT ON LAND STUDIED

Land Will Be Available on Reasonable Terms to Suitable Applicants

While the Province has no intention of embarking on elaborate land schemes such as led to the downfall of the former administration, "land-minded" applicants are being encouraged under provincial unemployment plans will be given every reasonable help in locating themselves on small holdings, where they desire, and in cases where special aptitude for this life is demonstrated, it was stated yesterday by Premier Tupper.

Considerable areas of provincially-owned lands in various parts of the province have been classified and attractively priced to assist this settlement. Some of these lands have already been privately taken up by co-operative agencies, which propose placing of selected applicants on the land on plans that will enable such settlers to secure a start, with proper guidance in meeting their initial problems.

LAND SCRIP CONSIDERED
In addition, it was emphasized, if the Province proceeds with the construction of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Quonset to Prince George, land scrip will be given to the workers on such basis that suitable small holdings will be available to those workers who wish to take up the land as a means of livelihood, and who are fitted to that calling.

SPECIAL SESSION MAY BE CALLED

Date of Next Meeting of Alberta Legislature Depends on Investigations, Says Premier

EDMONTON, Oct. 16 (CP).—Premier J. R. Brown today answered the demand for a special session of the Legislature and the suggestion that a Union Government be established in Alberta because of present economic conditions.

When the next Legislature will convene depends on the result of financial investigations now being made by the Government along with a group of civil servants, he said, and the suggestion for a Union Government he answered by asking what a Union Government could accomplish that a party Government could not.

Opportunity Seen For B.C. Products In Orient Markets

Trial Shipments of Canned Fruits and Vegetables Have Been Well Received—Dollar Discount Acts as Stimulus to Foreign Buying

INTRODUCTORY shipments of British Columbia fruit and vegetables, both fresh and canned, to the Orient this year have been carried out with considerable success, and this trade should be closely followed up now by intensive effort to take advantage of the benefit due to added buying power in the light of the Canadian exchange, it was stated yesterday by Wallace W. Duncan, director of markets for the Province.

Trial shipments of corn, peas, loganberries, apples and other vegetables and fruits have been made recently to Shanghai and Hongkong with good results. Canned goods, particularly corn, have done well. Favorable sentiment towards British Columbia goods has followed these efforts and should be taken advantage of to consolidate and extend markets thus opened to a wider range of canned goods, Mr. Duncan declared.

ADVANTAGE IN EXCHANGE
Due to the discount on Canadian funds, British Columbia traders have a momentary advantage in the Oriental market, in competition with other shippers whose foreign exchange is on a higher basis. This operates as a relative increase in the buying power of Orient nations, in favor of Canadian imports, a factor of some importance in view of the keen competition to secure favorable footing in countries which, through westernization, are opening fast to increasing imports from the new world.

China, continued Mr. Duncan, with its 400,000,000 people, was a country of great possibility for the British Columbia shipper. He pointed out that the British Columbia trade in stimulating this trade was the fact that numbers in China had had either direct contact with this land, or through relatives had been brought in touch with a knowledge of its goods. Not less than ten million people were included in this circle, and this number would expand immeasurably as time went on, he believed.

Export of lumber, grain and flour to the Orient would probably continue, Mr. Duncan said.

Little Change Is Shown by Edison

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 16.—At 8:30 o'clock tonight Dr. Hubert S. Howe, physician to Thomas A. Edison, issued the following bulletin:

"There seems to have been little change in Mr. Edison's appearance during the day. His appearance is that of one in a quiet, normal sleep. His circulation is showing signs of strain, but this evening the quality of his pulse is better than it was this morning."

Greater Share of Market For Empire Producer Urged

LONDON, Oct. 16 (CP).—Great impetus to the movement for guaranteeing the Empire producer a greater share of the British market against the foreign producer, is given in an authoritative report issued today. It comes from a joint committee of the Central Chamber of Commerce and the Empire Economic Union, and has the endorsement of the Federation of British Industries.

The main conclusion is the British Government need not await another Imperial Conference nor complete negotiations with the Dominions before going ahead with some sort of a quota scheme guaranteeing a fixed price to the domestic producer as well as giving the Empire producer a fixed share of the British market.

"Regarding products, we can produce in Britain, but not sufficient to meet our whole demands," the report says. "It must be left to the Government to decide how far we should act on our own initiative without waiting to negotiate with the Dominions, and how far assistance to our agriculture can be held up pending a Dominion conference. But in many instances the advantages given in return justify a more substantial measure of protection against the foreigner and a stamped measure of preference to the Empire producer that would otherwise be contemplated."

"The question of wheat can only be adequately dealt with by a system combining the quota and a guaranteed price."

LINER FINDS DECKLOAD OF YONAN MARU

Three Ships Scour North Pacific for Freighter in Distress

HIGH SEAS HAMPER SEARCH FOR CREW

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16 (AP).—The deckload of the Japanese freighter, Yonan Maru, which reported itself sinking in the stormy North Pacific early today, was found by the Dollar Line President Jefferson in the vicinity, late this afternoon.

In a message to the Mackay Radio Station here, the Dollar liner said: "Found deckload, but nothing else. Cruised vicinity three hours in company with Ayaha Maru and Taigen Maru, but no ships found trace of anything except logs from Yonan Maru deckload."

RAIN AND HIGH SEAS

The Japanese freighter carried a crew of forty to fifty men. The three ships proceeded immediately to the position where the freighter was reported to be. The search was hampered because of poor visibility, due to rain and high seas.

The Jefferson, whose passengers included Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, was continuing the search for the Yonan Maru. The cause of the difficulties resulting in the supposed disaster to the Yonan Maru was not told by the freighter. The vessel was carrying a lumber cargo to Shanghai, having left Portland, Ore., September 30. The Yonan indicated earlier it had lost the deckload.

FRANTIC APPEAL

"We are now sinking. Come quickly," the 7,154-ton liner radioed shortly before 6 a.m. No further messages were received, as far as Coast radio could learn late today.

The position the Japanese ship gave was latitude 50° 24' north, longitude 179° 20' east, in the world's worst fog belt south of the Western Aleutian Islands. The President Jefferson, bound for Puget Sound, was some four score miles distant when the first call for help was received, and her course changed for the race to the rescue.

RESIGNATIONS AVERT CRISIS

Strong Hand of General Calles Responsible for Quiet in Mexico

By A. ALCANTARA PASTOR (Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily Tribune)

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16.—Mexico is still wondering what happened in its political world that made necessary a thorough house cleaning in the Government, resulting in the resignation of the entire Cabinet Wednesday night at the behest of President Pascual Rubio, and in the assumption of the Federal power by former President Plutarco Elias Calles. However, everybody is gratified that the peace has not been disturbed.

General Calles apparently has attached a new feather to his cap by stepping in at an opportune moment, controlling the situation by the sheer force of his personality, and Mexico will sail forth with flying colors, peacefully settling what seems to be the most serious political crisis in her history.

Calles has proved his worth again and is rapidly becoming an indispensable man in the country, and the present peace he will soon hold all the important offices.

ACCEPTED RESIGNATIONS

It was officially announced late last night that President Rubio had accepted the resignations of all members of the Cabinet and also of the heads of the health department and the bureau of statistics. The resignation of the Federal district, and of the Attorney-General and the Comptroller-General. Announcement of a new Cabinet is awaited with keen interest. Quiet prevails everywhere and unrest, if any, may be noticeable only in political circles, which are wondering what will be the next step of Senator Ortiz Rubio and General Calles.

CAUSE STILL IN DOUBT

No official expression is available as regards the cause of the crisis and measures contemplated for its settlement. All kinds of versions are being circulated, but the only plausible opinion is that President Rubio had accepted the resignations of all members of the Cabinet and also of the heads of the health department and the bureau of statistics. The resignation of the Federal district, and of the Attorney-General and the Comptroller-General. Announcement of a new Cabinet is awaited with keen interest. Quiet prevails everywhere and unrest, if any, may be noticeable only in political circles, which are wondering what will be the next step of Senator Ortiz Rubio and General Calles.

Acclamations Give Good Start to Nationalists in Elections in Great Britain

Seven Ministers Among Sixty-Five Elected—More Than Four Hundred Forty Candidates Than in 1929—Stanley Baldwin Unopposed—Other Leaders in Three-Way Contests

LONDON, Oct. 16 (CP).—The National Government tonight opened the last round of its fight for re-election to Parliament, with a lead of fifty-three members returned by acclamation. In all constituencies except Oxford University, where there are two seats, and the English combined universities, two seats, candidates were nominated today. Sixty-two members were elected by acclamation. Added to three previous acclamations, they give the present standing of members elected as: Government fifty-nine, Opposition six.

Acclamations to date are classified as follows: Conservatives, 47; Labour, 7; Liberal, 5; Opposition Labour, 8; total, 65. This leaves 550 members still to be elected.

SEVEN MINISTERS RETURNED

In the unusual number of acclamations, seven ministers of the National Government were included: Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Lord President of the Council; Sir Thomas Inskip, Solicitor-General; Major Oliver Stanley, Under-Secretary for Home Affairs; Sir Hilton Young, Department of Overseas Trade; Isaac Foot, Secretary for Mines; Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary of State for Scotland; Sir Robert Kilgallon, Under-Secretary for Colonies. Commander Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, chief Government whip.

Candidates nominated today, 428, or 444 less than in the 1929 election. The drop in the number of candidates is due mainly to pacts between government supporters and the consequent elimination of a great many three-cornered fights.

MORE STRAIGHT FIGHTS

In 1929 there were 444 three-cornered fights and twenty-six four-cornered fights. In the present contest the number of three-cornered contests is ninety-nine, with four hundred four-cornered fights in single-member constituencies. This is the smallest number of three and four-cornered contests in any British election for the past twenty years.

Of the ninety-nine three-cornered fights, fifty-six are between Conservative, Liberal and Labour candidates. In thirty-nine of these triangular contests the Liberal candidates are supporters of the Government, and are therefore described as "National Liberals." In 1929 there were 410 such contests. In 1929 there were 410 such contests.

PROVED UNFIT TO BE TRUSTED

Philip Snowden Makes Bitter Attack on Former Labor Colleagues

LONDON, Oct. 15 (CP).—In a personal letter to candidates of the National-Labor party in Great Britain's general election campaign, Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, retiring Chancellor of the Exchequer, tonight bitterly attacked his former colleagues of the Labor Government.

"The issue," Mr. Snowden wrote, "is whether the country shall have a rotten, stable Government in this time of national peril, or whether its destinies shall be handed to men whose conduct in a serious national crisis has proved their unfitness to be trusted with responsibility."

IMPERATIVE CHOICE

"The choice which the Labor Government had to make at the end of August was whether we should put the welfare of the country before other considerations and take the necessary unpleasant measures to protect the financial and economic stability of the nation, or whether we should shrink out of duty and bow to the dictates of the Trade Union Congress."

"A few of us," his letter continues, "all of whom have a lifetime of service in the Labor movement, decided without hesitation to put our duty to the country before party considerations. We did this also because we knew that unless we faced up to the crisis, all that we worked for and won in special amelioration would be lost and further advance would be rendered impossible."

WORST DANGER AVERTED

"The crisis is not passed," Mr. Snowden wrote, "but the worst dangers have been averted by the action which the National Government has taken. The efforts of the National Government in Parliament were greatly hampered by the Labor opposition who have the outside world the impression of national disunity and unwillingness to face the situation."

"The National Government is appealing to the country to show its condemnation of the cowardice and untrustworthiness of the men who ran away from their national duty in the hour of crisis."

IMPOSSIBLE PROGRAMME

Mr. Snowden declared the Labor party would not carry out their election programme if they had a parliamentary majority. If they attempted to carry it out they would bring immediate and irretrievable ruin upon the country, he asserted.

SAYS LAND TAX IS BURDENSOME

James H. Beatty, M.P.P., Addresses Victoria Real Estate Board

Canada owes Russia in the confiscation of land for taxes, a considerable portion of which are for the upkeep of social legislation to benefit those taught to think the state owes them a living. James H. Beatty, M.P.P., told members of the Victoria Real Estate Board at luncheon yesterday. Mr. Beatty advocated early action to revise taxation methods, and through income and other taxes, to lighten the burden on land.

"There are citizens in Victoria today living on charity, who have paid thousands of dollars in taxes, and who have had their land taken away. The land owners have even been the most accessible, and taxes have gone up and up, until confiscation follows as a natural result of inability to pay. We have taught people to think that the state owes them a living. It was not so in the past. If the state owes everyone a living, then who or what is the state?" Mr. Beatty asked.

IS EASILY FOUND
The land owner, with a fixed address, was the recipient of all tax bills, and had to pay for hospitalization, pensions, education, roads, public works, policing, fire protection, and many other forms of service, only a few of which were of direct benefit to himself.

"The whole system must be revised," Mr. Beatty continued, "else the land owner is going to drop his land, and wholesale reversions will take place. Each reversion depreciates the value of surrounding property, and in turn encourages further reversions. Those asking free services from the state pay little or nothing towards these services. I have heard men objecting to the 1 per cent tax who paid 23 cents under that tax, and yet were sending several children to school to be educated by the state at a cost of $150 each," Mr. Beatty declared.

"We have to broaden the basis of taxation. Only 44,000 people out of the 660,000 in the province pay income tax. The same people pay Federal income taxes, land taxes and other taxes besides. Victoria City needs more land-owners, and needs more capital investment; yet capital has been driven to cover by the very unfairness of our methods of taxation. We, as a nation, have taxed capital into covetousness, and will not risk their capital by putting it out in land, to be shot at in every form of taxation imaginable."

EXCESSIVE BURDEN
"I believe we have got to do something about this. We have got to put men in the City Hall, and men in our public offices, who have a stake in the country. And whether we like it or not, we have got to stop borrowing, to stop asking for more and new services of every description. We have to make the land owner up and up until we have killed his spirit," Mr. Beatty declared.

The Provincial Government, he added, had done its part to the best of its ability, but had been met by incessant demands for services, and faced a condition where there were nearly 10 per cent of the people out of employment, and seeking help from the state. Increased taxes on land would be no solution to the problem, he warned. Lessened demands, a wider distribution of the burden on which taxes are collected, and more consideration of the landowner who for years had borne the brunt of it all, were elements that would have to be considered, and without delay, he said.

Mr. Beatty advocated personal property taxes, and further attention to income as a fair source of taxation, rather than the capital tax now imposed under various guises. Out of the $28,000,000 of the provincial annual budget, some $9,500,000 went for education and social services. This, he said, was entirely too great a drain on the people who had to pay the bill.

SOLUTION NEEDED
"We have got to decide where state responsibility to the individual begins and ends. We cannot shepherd the individual from the cradle to the grave. I believe it is absolutely necessary that we in this province get together and do something about this, now," Mr. Beatty concluded.

In discussion following, Major H. C. Holmes said property rentals nowadays left only 3 per cent on the value of the improvements alone for the owner's return after paying taxes and all charges, and no return of any nature was received from the land on which the improvements stood. A 4 per cent tax on land was equivalent to a tax on capital, and at this rate was more than a 50 per cent tax on income, which no one would stand. "Taxation," he considered, would have to be placed on an income, rather than a capital basis.

Mr. Beatty forecast an increase in the 1 per cent special revenue tax to 2 per cent. This would be found necessary, he believed.

WOULD TAX TENANT
David Leeming, assessing $170,000 as the cost of municipal fire prevention services, and $120,000 as the cost of policing, said the time had come when an occupancy charge should be considered by the city. The user of a dwelling, in his capacity as occupier, where not the owner, should be called on to pay a part of the bill, he thought.

Mr. Leeming agreed there was necessity for early revision of the whole basis of taxation. Unemployment costs, he added, bore to the extent of $5 per head on all in Victoria, as against $1.25 per capita in some outlying municipalities. This was inequitable. With $24,000,000 of tax-exempt property, Victoria landowners were paying more than their fair share, he concluded.

AFRICA DEPENDS LARGELY ON GOLD
Minister of Finance Emphasizes Advantages of Country Remaining on Gold Standard

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa, Oct. 16 (CP)—The adverse effect on the South African mining industry if the Union departed from the gold standard, was emphasized by N. N. Havenga, Minister of Finance, in an address to the Nationalist Party Conference yesterday.

The prosperity of the country was based largely on the gold mining industry, he said, and if that were endangered, South Africa would be seriously affected. Mr. Havenga said he did not believe Britain would return to the gold standard for some time.

The Union Government, Mr. Havenga declared, was determined to stand behind the banks. South Africa had big commitments overseas, and if she remained on the gold standard while Britain kept off, the Union Treasury would benefit.

ROW OVER GOLD LEADS TO DEATH

Former Texas Ranger Charged With Murder of Cariboo Miner

QUESNEL, Oct. 16.—Wade Starleigh, ex-Texas Ranger, deputy sheriff of Montana and West Side Alexandria rancher, held here in connection with the shooting of his mining partner, Jack Frey, of Edmonton, was brought before Magistrate E. C. Lunn yesterday and charged with murder. Asked if he required counsel, Starleigh replied that later on he might need help, and asked if counsel would be furnished by the Government.

Sergeant F. W. Gallagher, of Williams Lake, is here assisting Constable Vickers in the investigation. Starleigh gave his age as sixty-three. The body of Frey was found in the spot indicated by Starleigh, lying face downward on the path between the river and their tent camp. Each of the partners had his own tent. Frey was shot through the heart. His repeating rifle was lying in front of him. Its case, with trigger guard laid exposed, was there on the ground. There were cartridges in the magazine, but none in the barrel.

CAUSE OF TROUBLE
According to the story told by Starleigh to J. M. Yorton, to whom he first reported about 7 o'clock on the night of the shooting, he shot after Frey had threatened to "get him." The trouble between them first started when the gas engine owned by Starleigh perished in hitting on one, instead of all cylinders. Frey had used rough language, Starleigh stated, and by the time they were ready to clean up, the two partners were barely on speaking terms.

After the clean-up, which amounted to $50 for five days' actual work with the "Grizzly," Frey kept all the gold, saying they would divide it later. Starleigh then threatened him. The trouble between them first started when the gas engine owned by Starleigh perished in hitting on one, instead of all cylinders. Frey had used rough language, Starleigh stated, and by the time they were ready to clean up, the two partners were barely on speaking terms.

FOUND GOLD UNDER BED
When the police and the coroner, accompanied by J. M. Yorton and Julius Planzer, of Australian, visited the camp on Australian Bar yesterday, they found two small bottles of gold under the bed in Frey's tent. One contained fine gold and the other "roasted buttons" gold heated in an old shovel or other receptacle to extract the quicksilver in which the fine gold is first collected. Starleigh said he also had gold in his possession.

On the morning of October 14, according to Starleigh, Frey took his (Starleigh's) "Grizzly" and commenced to work at a different place, leaving him without a sluice of any kind. Frey offered Starleigh $250 a day as rental for the gas outfit, which Starleigh refused. For three days, Starleigh said, Frey carried a rifle with him, and it was on the evening of October 14, when Frey was returning from work, that he is reputed to have called out to Starleigh that he would get him.

GIVES HIS VERSION
Suing action to his words, according to Starleigh, he started to remove the case from his rifle. Starleigh was on his way to the river for water. He threw the water pail at his partner and beat a hasty retreat for his own tent, emerging immediately with a rifle. He fired from the hip and Frey fell in his tracks without a groan.

Owing to difficulty in finding the bones which Starleigh claims Frey hid from him, he was two hours in getting across the river and making the mile-and-a-half trip through the woods to Yorton brothers' camp. Owing to the absence of Dr. G. R. Baker at Narko, the inquest has been postponed.

It was erroneously reported in a dispatch from Williams Lake yesterday that H. M. Dell, ferryman of Alexandria, had been shot dead.

SUGGESTS NEW LAND REGISTRY

Grand Jury Insists That Fireproof Premises Be Provided Here

The grand jury at the assize court here made the following presentation to Mr. Justice Murphy at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was discharged from further duty:

"We, the grand jury, at the Fall Assizes, County of Victoria, beg to respectfully present to you the report of our inspection of the following institutions:

"We visited the Provincial Mental Home, Colquhoun, Vancouver Island, and found there were 252 inmates, with a staff of thirty-six. Same was in first class condition, well kept and efficiently managed, and the interests of the patients well catered for. The ventilating system of the main building was first class; exception, however, could be taken to the lack of an efficient ventilating system in the cold storage room, where we found the air foul and not conducive to the proper keeping of foodstuffs. We further found that the per capita cost per diem of the patients, including the staff, of 98.50 compared very favorably with other institutions of like nature within the province.

"We inspected the St. Joseph's and the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospitals and found the same in first class condition—clean and efficiently conducted.

"We visited the Land Registry Office in the Courthouse, and in that it is a matter of the very greatest urgency that fireproof premises be provided so that all books of record can be at all times safe from fire, whether in or out of the vault. A fire destroying these books would cause untold loss."

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs due to colds. It takes but a moment to prepare, costs little, and saves money, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics.

From any drugist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16 oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make 16 ounces of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs and bronchial irritations. Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

NOT GUILTY OF CAUSING INJURY

James T. Mann, charged with Harming George A. Dyson, Acquitted by Jury at Assize

James T. Mann, indicted by the grand jury on a charge of causing grievous bodily harm to George A. Dyson by wanton or furious driving of an automobile, was found not guilty by a jury at the Assize Court yesterday afternoon and was accordingly discharged.

The jury was absent from the courtroom from 12:50 o'clock to 3:15 o'clock, and returned once for direction on the definition of wanton driving.

The trial was resumed at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning, when Mr. Mann was placed on the witness stand to testify in his own defence. He told the jury that he had been to the fair grounds at least fifteen times during fair week and had always used the same road.

On the night of the incident he saw Mr. Dyson standing some distance away when he took his auto out of the parking space. Mr. Dyson, he said, suddenly appeared in front of the auto and started to push against it. He stopped his auto, but got no reply to his questions. Mr. Dyson, he proceeded, was another six feet and again stopped and Mr. Dyson did not deist. It was when he stopped his car a third time that Mr. Dyson got on to the bumper. Mr. Mann said he made a fourth stop outside the Industrial Building and Mr. Dyson still refused to get out of the way, and it was when he was again proceeding that Mr. Dyson again jumped on the bumper, and when the auto stopped Mr. Dyson fell off. Mr. Mann said Mr. Dyson did not appear to be hurt. The sudden stopping of the car was attributed by Mr. Mann to wet brakes.

Following Mr. Mann's evidence, H. A. Maclean, K.C., addressed the jury, followed by Gordon A. Cameron, Crown prosecutor. Mr. Justice Murphy's address was a review of the evidence and an explanation of the law in respect to the charge against Mr. Mann.

CENTENARIAN TO ASK FOR PENSION

"Dad" Quick at 111 Finds Saddle-Making Business Not So Brisk as Formerly

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16.—Charles "Dad" Quick, 111-year-old saddle-maker of Vancouver, one of the oldest citizens of the Dominion, will submit an application for an old age pension this year.

The barrier which prevented him from receiving a pension years ago was that he had not been a resident of British Columbia twenty years. It is two decades ago this month since the old energetic man left California for Vancouver.

Asked if he will close his shop at 1549 Powell Street when he receives his pension, Mr. Quick promptly replied that his one-man factory will remain open as long as he is able to look after it.

Depression has hit the saddle-making industry as well as everything else, the centenarian remarked, and trade is not so brisk as it used to be.

He recently shipped six saddles to England and a similar number to Australia.

"Dad" contracted the "flu" six weeks ago and has been indisposed since. He hopes to be able on Saturday to enjoy his birthday party, which is being sponsored by the Cornwall, Devon and Somerset Association of Vancouver, of which he is a member. He will be 111 years old on October 22.

RETURN NO BILL AGAINST THOMAS

Grand Jury Throws Out Indictment for Conspiracy of Former International Footballer

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16.—No bill was returned by the grand jury today to an indictment charging Dai Thomas and Frederick Rivers with conspiracy to defraud.

The accused, of whom Thomas is a well-known city broker and a former Welsh international rugby player, were charged with conspiring between August 7, 1926, and July 1, 1931, to defraud Mrs. Agnes Marriott, Vancouver, of $1,300. Thomas was arrested on August 13 and Rivers on September 11.

The indictment was handed to the grand jury by Mr. Justice Gregory in Assize Court this morning. His Lordship made little comment other than an explanation of the law relating to conspiracy.

Arts and Crafts Exhibition Ready

The annual exhibition of the Island Arts and Crafts Society, which is to be held from Tuesday next to the end of the month in the Belmont Building, comprises some interesting exhibits, including several canvases of unusual interest by artists who are just making their debut into the art world. Two rooms have been filled with oils, two with water colors, one with black and white work, and another with handicrafts. The weaving is exceptionally good this year, and pottery is more abundant than ever and of excellent quality. Among the treasures of the handicrafts collection is a screen worked by the late Lady Lawrence.

BRITAIN FACES TASK BRAVELY

Dr. Clem Davies, in Annual Lecture, Discusses Future of Motherland

That Britain is facing her responsibilities with character and practical common sense, while other nations are playing a waiting game, looking for a lead, and resorting to a policy of gradualism, was the theme of Dr. Clem Davies' annual lecture on "The Future of Britain," which he gave before a big audience at Temple Hall last night.

His prediction in connection with the forthcoming election in Britain was that "Britain will win through her troubles without a doubt, and with the Nationalist Government elected."

In the beginning of his address, which was Dr. Davies' second annual lecture, he pointed out that the future of any living organism was to be judged by its present and its past periods. Britain is a living organism, he said. Had she wished to live in the past, Britain could easily have done so, she was so rich in history, literature, and art. But she did not; she lived in the past; rather she was the most forward-looking nation in the world today, thinking for humanity, not for the world, every nation looking to see what she did and ultimately following suit.

HISTORIC POLICY

For generations, Britain's historic policy had been free trade between the nations. In a former time she had carried 80 per cent of the world's goods. Like ancient Rome, she had drawn her supplies from every quarter of the globe; she had the cheapest and sold in the dearest markets; her manufacturers had done business almost without competition; her landed gentry had made money to a large measure by selling farm products, with little or no protection.

The products of her mines, her foundries, her industries, her enormous, while in shipbuilding her yards were supreme. The British had come to assume, in an age of prosperity, that things would always be as they had been in a state of continuous prosperity.

Since the war, foreign competition had quadrupled; the manufacturers wanted protection, so did the manufacturers. On the other hand, millions did not want protection, regarding it as a menace to their livelihood. The price of their loaf, yet what was the condition, latterly, her coal mines were idle, her cotton mills silent, taxes crushing, her supplies depleted, millions of the people poor or out of work, and existing on the Government dole.

THE DOMINIONS

Dr. Davies here pointed out that in addition to the above, Britain's Dominions had, for some time, been rejecting her surplus labor and buying her goods from her own markets. States than from the Motherland. Britain had come to the end of this fiscal year six hundred million dollars in debt. For ten years she had been no emigration, resulting in a condition of 4,000,000 surplus men, all of whom had to be provided for. Yet, in this time of crisis, she was turning to Britain wondering what she would do now that she was abandoning the gold standard and declaring for a National Government.

"Britain has forsaken her traditional policy of 'muddling through' and proposed to set her house in order no matter at what cost," he said, recalling that Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer had issued a statement in Paris that he would no longer stand for more burdens being imposed on her. Britain might lighten her belt, go on hard-ship, or face irretrievable ruin. Like other nations, Britain had been terribly shaken by the war. Snowden, Baldwin and MacDonald had asked for a doctor's man to tell her that a nation, like an individual, during convalescence, was inclined to play itself. Now, it had been decreed that she was to be taken off a diet of soft foods. The bread that had in 1914 organized in one week in time and air, for the greatest struggle in all history, was now to be reorganized in every detail of its being. Now, as then, the nation's character would be put to the test, every person standing up to his job with his back to the wall.

STRENGTH OF CHARACTER

"Britain's ingrained common sense will pull her through," prophesied the speaker. "A generation hence men will look back and say of the British of today, 'Is it possible that the British of that age did not know, could not see, could not even guess, to what heights of strength, wisdom, and enduring honor, they had lifted their land without wavering in their faith, without doubting the future.'"

In his summary, Dr. Davies recalled that the occasion of Britain's recent trouble was the collapse of Germany. From 1928, Germany's unemployed had steadily increased from the three millions then out of work. Firms and banks failed. The insurance relief system, all right in normal times, also collapsed; the reparations which the Young plan made no provision for the degraded standard of living. The absolute impossibility of Germany being able to pay, since her goods were not acceptable to the nations with whom she wanted to trade, had caused a breakdown in her finances.

An Englishman and a Yankee standing before Victoria Falls in Africa. "Surely you must concede that these falls are grander than your Niagara Falls," said the Englishman.

"What?" replied the Yankee. "Compare these to our Niagara Falls? Why, man alive, these are mere perspiration."

Warning Is Given—The Canadian National Institute for the Blind wishes to warn the public that the Hope Brand broom, made by the blind in British Columbia, is sold only through the legitimate retail trade and not by house-to-house or telephone canvases. The public of British Columbia is therefore urged to buy Hope Brand brooms through the local retail stores and in this way being taken advantage of. The Institute appreciates very much the support extended by the public and does not wish that it should be taken advantage of in any way.

Further business of the meeting included a decision to invite Miss Agnes Macphail, the only woman member of the Canadian House of Commons, who has visited in Victoria, to give an address at a meeting on November 8 during her visit here.

Receives Degree—The degree of master of arts has been officially conferred upon John Gough, of 2733 Seabourne Street, by the University of British Columbia, from which institution he secured his bachelor of arts degree in 1928. Mr. Gough received all of his training at the University of British Columbia, and for several years taught on the public school staffs. Later he was transferred to the staff of the Victoria High School and at the present time is an instructor at the Victoria Provincial Normal School.

Petition Authorities—In an effort to alleviate the losses suffered by recipients of Imperial pensions and incurred by the recent drop in value of the pound sterling, the Dominion headquarters of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., have petitioned the Imperial pension authorities to fix pension payments taking the value of the pound at $4.88. Unless this is done much unnecessary suffering is bound to take place even among the recipients of fairly large pensions, while those who are now getting a mere pittance will be left practically destitute.

Warning Is Given—The Canadian National Institute for the Blind wishes to warn the public that the Hope Brand broom, made by the blind in British Columbia, is sold only through the legitimate retail trade and not by house-to-house or telephone canvases. The public of British Columbia is therefore urged to buy Hope Brand brooms through the local retail stores and in this way being taken advantage of. The Institute appreciates very much the support extended by the public and does not wish that it should be taken advantage of in any way.

Soviet Scientist Tells of Device Designed for Service in Arctic

That Soviet Russia will in future, according to advices from London, devote greater attention to exploring the Arctic regions is indicated in statements recently made by Professor Samoilovich during the course of an address to members of the Academy of Science, dealing with the cruise of the Graf Zeppelin.

The scientific results of that jaunt, Professor Samoilovich declared, were of extreme importance and had opened up new paths into the Polar region which the Soviet Government even now is preparing to follow up.

Next year, the Professor declared, would see a great increase in the exploration activities in the North, including two important expeditions. The first of these would be an "automatic expedition," a small boat equipped with self-registering instruments, tested during the dirigible's journey, which would be sent into the Arctic region either from a point on Novaya Zemlja or from the Northern Land. This vessel would be so constructed that it would circumnavigate all ice-fields and other moving obstacles without deviating from its set course, the apparatus aboard automatically registering the appropriate position.

The unique craft was already under construction, Professor Samoilovich added, but declared that the machine could not divulge further details. The second expedition would leave from Archangel in a new heavy ice-breaker, which would be launched during the next few months and would attempt to reach Vladivostok by the Northern route, a feat that had never before been attempted, but which it now seemed possible to achieve.

Head of Imperial Oil Company Pays Visit to Capital

Charles O. Stillman, president of the Imperial Oil Company, arrived in Victoria yesterday on his annual business tour of Western Canada and the Pacific Coast. He was accompanied by L. C. McCleary, director of the company's manufacturing, and Charles Leaver, general manager of the company's refineries.

Mr. Stillman has been president of the Imperial Oil Company since 1919. He was born in Cleveland and has had a wide experience in the oil business. For many years he was with the Standard Oil Company. He became director and superintendent of the Imperial Oil Company in 1929, and rose to the presidency of the company. Mr. Stillman is also president of the Imperial Petroleum Corporation, a director of the Dominion Bank, and a director of the Dominion Board held in Saint John, N.B., and both fulfilled their task ably and with a commendable and appreciative audience of Women's Auxiliary members.

Mrs. Dickson made the many personal calls he had met at the meeting, and a welcome expression by the president of the Christ Church Cathedral senior branch, Mrs. J. H. Hinton.

IN NEWSPAPER WORK

One item of news of general interest, Mrs. Dickson said, was that Miss Loretta Shaw, of Japan, had been released from a definite missionary service to devote her time to newspaper evangelism in Japan, as her experience and training had made her of invaluable service in the newspaper propaganda which is being carried on to further Christian teaching.

The personnel of the new executive of the Dominion Board was interestingly described by Mrs. Dickson, who paid a special tribute to the value of the work of the Dominion Board secretary, Mrs. F. J. Brimer, who was called upon to address the meeting on the organization of relief for the West.

APPEAL FOR CLOTHING

Mrs. Brimer made an urgent appeal for supplies of clothing to be sent in as speedily as possible to the Dominion Board secretary, Mrs. A. Christie, Linden Avenue, for use of the distressed families on the Prairies, whose need is acute, as the year has been a disastrous one for the Prairie farmers, whose stock has been depleted by the lack of grass, rain and impoverished crops, and whose families are suffering.

Winter has already set in, to add to the miseries of these people. In this considering the needs of those sufferers on the Prairies, the board was not unmindful of needs close at hand, and a donation of $15 was made to the workroom project being carried out at the Y.W.C.A., also $10 to the survey being made in connection with the Child and Family Welfare Council. Both these donations were made from the "Extra Center" fund, from which the regular monthly contribution to the Social Service League was sent.

LABOR CAMPS

The unemployed labor camps were provided with two sacks of good roofing material, which was gratefully received, Mrs. Phil reported.

The girls' secretary, Mrs. H. V. Mills, reported three branches formed since June, and that the program recently drawn up for girls' leaders was proving most helpful and satisfactory.

A special welcome was accorded by the meeting to two members of the branch recently formed at Langford, who attended the meeting with their superintendent.

TRAINING CLASSES

The training classes for girls' leaders will be held in the Memorial Hall on the evenings of November 4 and 5, those taking part in the training being Misses Burgess, Deaconess Robinson, Mrs. E. P. Laycock, Mrs. Brimer and Mrs. Dickson.

In connection with training for little helpers' work, a course of lectures is to be delivered in the Memorial Hall, October 27 to November 3, by Deaconess Robinson, under the title of "Religious Education in the Home."

DOMINION W.A. REPORT GIVEN
Mrs. C. de V. Schofield and Mrs. James Dickson Tell of Meeting in Saint John

That the recent annual meeting of the Dominion Board was one of the best she had attended, was the opinion expressed by Mrs. C. D. Schofield in the outline of the meeting given before the Diocesan Board yesterday afternoon, in the Christ Church Cathedral Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Schofield, who was given a cordial greeting by the meeting, shared with Mrs. James Dickson, diocesan president, in the arduous task of presenting a report of the meeting of the Dominion Board held in Saint John, N.B., and both fulfilled their task ably and with a commendable and appreciative audience of Women's Auxiliary members.

Mrs. Dickson made the many personal calls he had met at the meeting, and a welcome expression by the president of the Christ Church Cathedral senior branch, Mrs. J. H. Hinton.

A most welcome visitor at the afternoon session was Mrs. Laycock, who was given a cordial welcome.

EMBROIDERY GUILD

Among interesting reports was that of the Church Embroidery Guild, brought in by Mrs. Green, who reported a gift of a handsome white broadcloth stole to Rev. Canon Hitchcock to replace his severe loss of such vestments by fire. Further gifts of altar furnishings were being prepared by the guild for St. Paul's new church.

The board has been invited to hold the November luncheon in St. Matthias' parish.

Thanks were expressed at the close of the meeting to the senior branch for hospitality in providing luncheon for the board, and to the evening branch for tea served at the close of the meeting.

Make Reductions in Round-Trip Tickets

Action Establishes Precedent—First Time Cut Made in Return Fares to Orient Ports—Applies Both Ways

Effective November 15, reduced round trip fares to the Orient were announced yesterday by representatives here of the three lines of steamships operating to the Orient. These lines are the Canadian Pacific, American Mail Line and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha. The reductions are for all the year and will continue until further notice, being agreed to by the companies interested. They will permit of a return fare to the Orient from Seattle, and a return fare from the Orient to Seattle, at a rate of one and one-half times the one-way fare. This is the first time in the history of cross-Pacific travel that any reduction has been offered in connection with a round trip ticket, the fare being always just double the one-way charge.

Under the new arrangement the new all-year rates will be one and three-quarters of the one direction charge for the first class, and one and four-fifths of the one-way cabin class fare. The reduced Summer fares, which will be effective from April 1 until July 31, with a final return limit of October 31, will apply to first class, second cabin, second class and tourist cabin, and offer a substantial reduction below the new all-year round-trip prices, and stop-over privileges will be allowed at any port in either direction within the limit of the ticket.

SAILING OUTBOUND
Outbound for the Philippine Islands, via Japan and China ports, the American Mail Line Ss. President Taft, Captain A. W. Nygram, commander, is due alongside Rithet Pier at 4 o'clock this afternoon from Seattle, and after embarking travelers and taking on last-minute mail for Orient ports, is scheduled to clear two hours later for Yokohama, her first port of call across the Pacific. The Taft is taking on a good passenger list from Seattle, according to advices received here, while she has a capacity cargo.

Relieving the Ss. Princess Elaine on the Vancouver-Nanaimo run, the Ss. Princess Joan will operate between the Island and the Mainland for several days while the former ship is undergoing annual overhaul in the Government drydock at Esquimalt.

She was due to leave Vancouver at the regular sailing hour last night, and will be here this morning. The Ss. Princess Norah will go on the Skagway run for the winter, taking her first sailing north on October 18.

Both Fishing Schooners Reported to Be in Shape for Classic

HALIFAX, Oct. 16 (CP).—A draped flag and the bark of a six-pounder will signalize tomorrow the opening scene of this year's most spectacular drama in the world of international sport. At 9 o'clock, if all is well, the Lunenburg schooner, er, Bluenose, defending her crown as champion fishing schooner of the Grand Banks, and Gertrude L. Thebaud, Gloucester challenger, will be heading out across the line that marks the start and finish of a forty-mile course.

Two out of three races over the course of four courses will determine custody of the international trophy until Canadian and United States rivals meet again. Interest in this, the first series of races for the eleven-year-old trophy in eight years, has been intense.

Today, however, was one of only minor activities aboard the racing craft. Fog prevented a jaunt around the course, and rain fell heavily. Captain Ben Pine, of the Thebaud, and Captain Angus Walters, who has captained the Bluenose in every race, had been thinking of having their vessels hauled out on marine railways for a going over, but at the last moment Ben decided the Thebaud was in her best possible shape and Angus thought a slight leak noticed in the Bluenose's top-tops would be no hindrance to her speed.

Tomorrow's race will mark the first renewal of competition for the trophy since the unsatisfactory series of 1925, when the races were left unfinished.

Two Cabin Ships Reach Baychimo and Start Back for Kotzebue

NOME, Aug. 16 (AP).—Airplanes today aided in the "rescue" of a group of passengers aboard the steamer Baychimo, locked in the Arctic icepack several hundred miles north of here. Two cabin ships, flown by pilots Vic Ross and Chester Brown, arrived near the Baychimo, a Hudson's Bay Company ship, off Wainwright, yesterday, and preparations were made to fly the passengers to Kotzebue. The flight is between 250 and 300 miles.

In a brief message from Wainwright, it was said a number of passengers and their baggage were loaded into the planes for the flight. A third plane was flown from here to Kotzebue, across the Seward Peninsula, to aid in bringing them to Nome.

LAST OPPORTUNITY
A large supply of Arctic furs, the catch of natives in the Point Barrow district during the past year, were also to be brought from the vessel. From Kotzebue the passengers and furs were to be flown here in time to catch the steamer Victoria, on its last southbound trip of the season to the United States. The Baychimo, failing to start south from Point Barrow soon enough during the brief month-long season of open water there, was caught in the ice before proceeding a hundred miles. Several days ago word from Wainwright said all hopes of getting the ship freed had been abandoned and members of the crew began building a small house on shore to spend the winter there.

HAMBURG, Oct. 16 (AP).—Captain Johannes, German flyer, filed the piloting charges from Lisbon to a point in the Atlantic off Cape Race, Newfoundland, at 5,000 marks (about $1,200). He is suing Willy Rody, his companion, in a Hamburg court for that amount as wages on their attempted flight to New York in September. With Fernando de Costa Viegas, they were forced down by lack of fuel, floated for more than six days, and were rescued by a passing vessel. Rody is resisting the charge.

Fish Packers Land
Many Thousands of
Chum Salmon Here

Saltery at Ogden Point Will Handle in Neighborhood of 300,000 Before Season Closes—Japan Possible Market

Lined up alongside Ogden Point Pier, in the vicinity of the Terminal Cold Storage plant and the fish curing shed, seine boats and fish packers present a busy scene any day now. Yesterday afternoon, a number of seine boats were unloading fresh-caught herrings at the cold storage plant, while scows and fish-packing craft were discharging thousands of salmon onto the dock close by, from where they were hurried to the saltery in boxes loaded on trucks.

Inside the shed, the salmon were being cleaned, salted and piled up in continuous tiers breast-high, there being already about 100,000 fish stacked up, where they must remain for fourteen days, when they will be ready and available for shipment in boxes holding 500 pounds each.

VANCOUVER OPERATOR
Francis Miller, of Vancouver, is putting the fish up, and would have started earlier, but for the strike on Barkley Sound a short time ago interfering with his plans. When the difficulty was adjusted, provision was immediately made to bring the fish here.

The plant at the Point started operating several days ago, the bulk of the fish now received coming from Barkley Sound. Later they will be arriving from the Nitinat, off which river they are now appearing; and before the season closes, about November 10, it is expected that somewhere in the neighborhood of 300,000 salmon will have passed through the saltery shed at Ogden Point.

ARE ALL CHUMS
The fish that are being sailed are all chums, a variety of salmon which the canners of British Columbia are not packing this year, the utilization of the local facilities and the efforts to meet low market prices being made possible by the action of the Government in reducing materially the cost of sealing and saltery licences, enabling the fishermen to get something for their catches while the fish are running and fit for food, and giving the saltery operator the opportunity to pay his way.

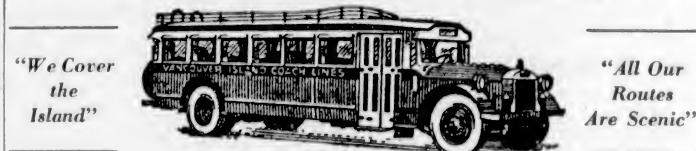

Salt chum salmon will find a ready market, it is expected, this year in Japan, owing to the failure of the Kamchatka fisheries. Depending upon that source for the greater bulk of their fish, the supply is away below the demand in Japan at the present time, a circumstance which will make it possible for the salteries now buying fish from the fishermen to dispose of all they can handle.

Scotland has many labor disputes.

St. Andrew's W.M.S.

The annual thanksgiving service at the W.M.S. of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held on Wednesday evening. There was a good attendance of members and friends, and the number of small envelopes and silver coins upon the plates bore evidence of a liberal response to the call which had been sent out. Mrs. R. A. Brown, president, was in the chair, and conducted devotional exercises. Mrs. La Pointe, president of the presbytery, dedicated the offering. Appropriate hymns, scripture reading and prayer were in accord with the central thought of the meeting, "Christian missions." A beautiful solo was given by Mrs. W. Grant. Mrs. Jaffray was a sympathetic accompanist. The speaker was Mrs. J. F. MacLean, of Vancouver, who from three years' experience as field worker and itinerant deaconess, made clear the needs of outlying districts. Often the W.M.S. has been the factor in holding small congregations together, she said. Good literature is everywhere welcomed and kindly fellowship and counsel gladly received.

Needs of Northern Saskatchewan Call For Churches' Aid

Large Population in North Battleford Bush Country Requires Help—Churches Organize to Assist Drought-Stricken in South

THE church spotlight is being turned on Northern Saskatchewan. Into one area of 4,500 square miles beyond North Battleford, 8,000 people have trekked from districts more or less farther south during the past few months. According to Rev. Dr. Nicol, of the United Church of Canada, there were in September only three church representatives throughout that area, an Anglican clergyman, a Roman Catholic priest and a United Church minister.

Among the newcomers to the unorganized territory there are people "as desperate as was Jean Valjean when he broke the baker's window to get bread for his children," states Dr. Nicol. Some colonies are wards of the Government, but many have come on their own responsibility. The United Church is sending two unmarried ordained men to minister to these new settlements in Northern Saskatchewan, to discover the people in their new shacks hidden away in the bush and do considerable relief work among them. "I told them that they would have no settled abode," writes Dr. Nicol, "that they would have to leave their cars behind, climb themselves in sheepskins, ride horseback, visit

Rev. E. F. Church Will Interpret at Metropolitan Questions Arising From Life of Mr. Edison

Rev. E. F. Church will preach on "Thomas A. Edison: An Appreciation of His Life and Work," on Sunday evening in the Metropolitan Church. The life of this great man, who is lying so near to the portals of eternity, throws a strong light on many questions which are being asked today, such as: Has the invention of labor-saving machinery benefited man, or harmed him by causing unemployment? Is science a friend or foe to labor? Rev. J. H. A. Warr will conduct a half-hour service from 7 to 7:30 o'clock.

At the morning service the pastor will preach on "What Happened After That?" a sequel sermon to the three sermons recently preached on Matthew 11, 15. The music for the day, under the direction of Mr. King, with Edward Parsons presiding at the organ, will be as follows: Morning—Anthem, "I Was Glad When They Said Unto Me" (Evelyn); Solo by Mrs. A. W. Stokes, "The Voice in the Wilderness" (Pringle Scott); Evening—Anthem, "Sweet the Moment" (Rich); "The Song of Redemption" (Protheroe), by Chas. O'Neil.

On Monday evening the Western People's Society will hold its weekly meeting, at which a debate will take place. A feature of the evening will be the folk dancing.

Minister Here Ten Years

Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., Who Took Charge of First United Church Here on October 18, 1921. Dr. Wilson Came to This City From Moose Jaw, Having Previously Had a Pastorate at Guelph.

FAMOUS PREACHER Archdeacon Collinson To Preach HERE TOMORROW

Full Gospel Tabernacle Begins Meetings Under Condon of U.S. President. Rev. J. N. Hoover, of Santa Cruz, California, a cousin of President Hoover, and internationally known as preacher, teacher and writer, will begin tomorrow a two weeks' series of meetings with the congregation of the Full Gospel Tabernacle, 1218 Broad Street. Mr. Hoover is highly commended by Canadian and American pastors as an evangelist of unusual power, whose meetings are attended by large crowds.

The evangelist is accompanied by Rev. Emil Bailett, who is an excellent violinist, and who will conduct the singing. The pastor of the Full Gospel Tabernacle is Rev. C. M. Ward, who took charge here six months ago. Under his care the congregation has prospered, especially in the large number of young people who attend.

The Presbyterians are engaged in furnishing one thousand copies of their revised Presbyterian Book of common Prayer for those who sail the seas. Captain Dollar, of the Dollar Line of steamships, with his two sons, have planned to adopt a uniform "Service at Sea" for their nineteen ships. A special feature of the new edition of the Book of Common Prayer is the incorporation of "Service at Sea" for those at sea, written for this particular purpose by Dr. Henry van Dyke.

Church Personals

Rev. Dr. J. G. Inkster, minister of Knox Presbyterian Church of Toronto, formerly of this city, spoke over the air last week on behalf of the Catholic Federation of Charities, which is aiming to raise $200,000 for the needy of Toronto. Replying to the letter of sympathy sent by the Presbytery of Victoria, Rev. G. C. Pringle, writing from Tranquille Sanatorium, stated that he is rapidly gaining in weight and strength.

It is an interesting coincidence that the city of Moose Jaw has supplied pastors to three of Victoria's congregations in the persons of Rev. E. F. Church, of Metropolitan Church; Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, of First United, and more recently, of the late Dr. Leslie Clay, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian; Rev. W. A. Guy, of Oak Bay United, was also a minister there at one time. The Bishop of Winchester, who preached the consecration sermon at the opening of Christ Church Cathedral here two years ago, has recovered from an illness and has resumed his "walking pilgrimages." A recent issue of The Guardian shows him with pastoral staff in his hand addressing a group of children in one of the villages of his diocese.

EMMANUEL TOPIC IS ON BUILDING

"The Preciousness of Jesus" is the subject of the morning sermon, Rev. M. S. Richardson in Emmanuel Baptist Church tomorrow. "Good or Bad Building" is the theme of the evening sermon.

On account of the hosts of sight-seers whose cars form an avenue down their Majesties' drive on Sunday from Craik Church to Balmoral, they are considering, according to The Scot's Observer, giving up their public worship there and building a private chapel within their grounds.

Talented Leaders To Contribute to Training School

BISHOP Schofield, Principal Dr. J. G. Brown, of Vancouver, and Ira Dilworth are among the talented speakers who will contribute to the programme of the annual leadership training school, which opens on October 27 at the Memorial Hall. Experts will lead each of the seven departments of instruction, including Mrs. J. H. McRae, of Vancouver; Mrs. W. W. McGill, Miss Anne Fountain, Rev. J. H. A. Warr, Rev. E. R. McLean and Mrs. Hugh Nixon. Twenty-three churches were represented last year in an enrolment of 162.

"MAN IN STREET" EVENING SUBJECT

City Temple Brotherhood Has T. Guy Sheppard as Speaker at Sunday Afternoon Service

"The Man in the Street" will be the subject of Dr. Clem Davies' topical sermon at the Victoria City Temple tomorrow evening. Claiming that much of the responsibility for present-day conditions in world affairs, religion, business and politics is due to the inertia of the ordinary man, Dr. Davies will endeavor to show how increased and concerted interest would do much in mitigation of present ills. Morning worship will be conducted at 11 o'clock. Dr. Davies preaching. The Temple choir will render the anthem "God Is a Spirit" (Smart). At 3:30 o'clock T. Guy Sheppard will be the speaker at the Temple Brotherhood, his subject being "Are Party Politics Justifiable Today?" W. E. Veatch will render a violin solo. At these Brotherhood meetings both men and women are invited.

TO GIVE REPORT OF SYNOD RALLY

Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, who has returned from the General Synod, meeting in Guelph and Toronto, will conduct the services in St. John's Church, Quadra Street, on Sunday. There will be Holy Communion at 8 o'clock, Morning Prayer at 11, and Evening at 7:30. Canon Chadwick, at the 11 o'clock service, will take as his subject, "The Message from the General Synod," in which he will speak of some of the outstanding features of that important meeting. The Sunday school and Anglican Young People's Association Bible Class will meet at 10 o'clock.

Synod Takes Important Steps in Closing Days

Individual Synods and Boards May Admit Women—Final Decision on Primate's Election at Next Synod

THE last issue of The Canadian Churchman gives a more extended report of the proceedings of the General Synod of the Church of England during its closing days. In the discussion of the report of the Anglican National Commission it was decided that women should be admitted to all synods and boards of the church on the same terms as men, with the proviso that in order to make this effective the various synods and boards must enact the necessary legislation.

Should the next Synod ratify the change in the constitution, the Primate will be elected by an electoral college, to be composed of the House of Bishops, with its twenty-six members, and the executive council of the Synod. "All bishops and priests of the Church of England in Canada and any church in communion therewith" are to be eligible for the Primacy. The bishops reserve the right to nominate. At seventy years of age the Primate will be required to submit his resignation to the House of Bishops, the resignation to be effective only when accepted. This means that the Primate continues in office as long as the bishops deem advisable. There will be one general pension fund for the church throughout Canada, but those dioceses which now have pension funds are granted the privilege of co-ordinating their departments with the all-Canada plan, if they wish. A minimum pension of $500 will be provided on retirement at sixty and of $700 at seventy. The Upper House did not accept the recommendation of the Lower House that the hymn book committee proceed to submit a draft at the next Synod. Instead, the bishops will make an inquiry in the interim.

FIRST UNITED TO HOLD COMMUNION

Dr. Wilson Will Preach at Morning and Rev. Bruce Gray at Evening Service. The Holy Communion will be celebrated at both services in First United Church on Sunday. At the morning service Dr. Wilson will preach, taking for his subject, "The Sustainers," and Rev. B. O. Gray will preach at the evening service, his subject being "Keeping Up Our Courage." The Young People's Society will meet on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The music on Sunday will be as follows: Morning, anthem, "As Pants the Hart" (Sphor), soloist, Mrs. W. H. Wilson. Evening, quartette, "The King of Love" (Shelley), Mrs. T. R. Bowden, Miss M. Freeman, Messrs. F. J. Mitchell and W. C. Pye; anthem, "Sun of My Soul" (Turner).

WORK AND THRIFT UPHOLD FRANCE

Premier Laval Says International Collaboration More Than Ever Necessary Now

PARIS, Oct. 16 (AP).—Interests of nations are so closely intertwined that no country can be protected from dangers that menace others, Premier Pierre Laval said tonight in the eve of his departure to talk world affairs with President Hoover in Washington. "In our epoch it is impossible to regard isolation as a sufficient preventive remedy," he declared.

"A severe crisis has disturbed the world and the Governments have made efforts which up to now have proved insufficient to put an end to the evil," he said.

Declaring that France has remained sound, he accounted for this privileged position by "work and thrift." He referred to the recent conversations among statesmen at Paris, London and Berlin, and declared that "while safeguarding our essential interests, we have taken our part in that international collaboration which is more than ever necessary."

The Premier reiterated his warning against expecting too much from the conversations between himself and Mr. Hoover. "In our days in Washington we shall not settle the affairs of the universe," he said.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

VALUE OF HEAT AND MASSAGE

It was my privilege for some years to supervise the training of athletes for national and international competition. One of the things I insisted on was a hot shower or tub bath after practice or competition and then a rub down or massage by a trainer.

There isn't any question but that this hot water and massage quickly remove fatigue products manufactured in the body by the exercise and bring fresh pure blood to the part.

Dr. Harold Wolfson, Chicago, gives the results of experiments in the use of heat, massage, and various types of mechanical stimulation on the flow of blood to or through a part. These experiments show that heat produces an increased supply to the part by actively opening up the small blood vessels. This increase continues for a considerable time, gradually increasing up to a certain point, maintaining the increased flow for another period of time, and then gradually decreasing even if the heat is still being applied.

Massage causes at first a great increase of blood by forcing the used blood out of the part, and more completely emptying the small blood vessels.

One of the world's greatest sprinters of a few years back had never bothered to have a rub or a massage after his hot shower—didn't see the need of it. He was induced to submit to the massage, and said he never realized what he was missing, felt so "light and airy."

And when you realize that heat in the form of a hot shower, a hot tub, or a heated cabinet bath, brings the blood in greater volume to the part carrying away the waste or fatigue products, and this is followed by massage, which more completely empties all the vessels, you can readily understand why heat and massage, by getting rid of the fatigue products in a short time, prevent these athletes from becoming stale.

Now you may not be an athlete, but it is well to remember that any and all forms of exercise—housework, garden work, walking, golf, anything in fact—makes fatigue products, and if these do not get out of the system you are going to feel "tired" all the time. Good night's sleep usually gives the system a chance to get rid of these products before you start work or exercise the next day.

However, it is worth knowing that a good hot bath and massage will actually save hours of time in getting rid of these fatigue products.

SCHOOL TO TRAIN CHURCH LEADERS

Religious Education Council of Victoria Endorses Plan for Winter Months

The Religious Education Council of Victoria met this week at the Y.W.C.A. with representatives of several denominations in attendance. Rev. Bruce G. Gray, president, and Mrs. M. C. Wilkinson acted as secretary.

The courses for the Inter-Denominational Leadership Training School, which opens on Tuesday, October 27, in the Memorial Hall, were finally passed by the executive committee. It was announced that Bishop C. D. Schofield had consented to give the opening address at 7:30 o'clock and that the various classes would convene at 8:30 o'clock on the same evening.

The feature of the school will be the special four nights course to be conducted by Principal J. O. Brown, of Union College, Vancouver, on the subject, "Christian Religion—Its Message and Program," which will have special reference to the problems which confront thinking Christian people today in their personal and social experience.

PRACTICAL STUDY

Mrs. J. H. McRae, a prominent Sunday school worker of Vancouver, will lead a practical study for teachers in the primary departments of the local schools, while Mr. W. W. McGill, of the Baptist Church, Victoria, will conduct a similar course for leaders in the junior departments. A new and interesting subject is offered by Deaconess M. Robinson, of the Anglican Church, on "Religious Education in the Home."

The Girls' Leaders Council of Victoria will sponsor a class for leaders in girls' work, to be directed by Miss Anne Fountain, I.A. provincial secretary. An introductory course for leaders and older boys has been planned by Rev. J. H. A. Watt, chairman of the boys' work board, "Dramatics in Sunday School Work" will be a new course on the curriculum and is offered by Mrs. Hugh Nixon, of this city. "How to Secure Interest in Young People's Work" will be led by Rev. E. R. McLean, M.A., of Vancouver.

TO RECEIVE REGISTRATIONS

Representatives to receive registrations for the school were appointed as follows: Rev. E. W. P. Carter, Anglican; Rev. M. S. Richardson, Baptist; John G. Simpson, Presbyterian; Mrs. T. Hammond, City Temple; Rev. J. H. A. Watt, United Church; and Miss Betty Shaw was elected as school registrar.

Last year 162 leaders in religious education work in Victoria and district, representing twenty-three church schools, were in attendance, this being the largest school of its kind in Western Canada. Special efforts will be made to secure an even larger representation for this year's school.

Just Roamin' Around

BY TWO ROGERS

There is a subtle human quality that defies adversity, laughs at disaster, and perseveres under the very worst conditions of existence. What in the individual is described as stick-to-it-iveness, but, in the mass, is well known as community spirit.

This force is the most powerful vehicle for city building for home beautifying, and the greatest of all business agencies known to mankind.

Community spirit is not merely pride in one's town, or vicinity, it is not just man's manifestation of man's love of his own business or calling, nor is it solely the outburst of his joy in local environment. It is far more than that.

It is the honest feeling of a hearty co-operation with his business brothers, the good result of his better team-play energy. A get-together, live and let live fraternal outcome of the noblest nature makes a small town grow into a city of importance; it helps the city expand into a bustling hive of industry and good fellowship. A municipality is either go-ahead or go-behind, and it does not depend entirely on the size of its payroll; but, rather, on the amount of its community spirit as to how prosperous and happy the community is.

How does the individual resident share in this? Well, as co-operation is the foundation of a business people's success, each individual should do his bit to better local conditions by believing in his home town, by patronizing local enterprise, by subscribing to all legitimate home sports and pastimes, always upholding the honor and welfare of his city's undertakings, and by being a part and parcel of every movement that is for the benefit of the city, spending the household monies at home, rather than in other centers.

MY HOME TOWN

Oh! happy place of heart's delight! Here joyously, or day or night, I love to be; my soul is free, Beneath a laden rowan tree, Whose boughs low-bend with berries bright!

Here, flowers revel in sunlight And happy birds renew their flight, Refreshed, 'Tis immortality! Oh! happy place of heart's delight!

Here, rest and peace with joy unite; Here, is my regal haven—etie; Here, flowers riot, yet agree, 'Tis death of glorious blue. The sea Close murmurs, flecked with gold and white.

Oh! happy place of heart's delight! Victoria, B. C.

Billy Townsend Gets Draw With Walker in Slashing Encounter

Vancouver Youngster Given Tremendous Ovation After Bout With Trenton Welterweight in Ten-Round Mix at Madison Square

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Blonde Billy Townsend, promising young welterweight from Vancouver, B.C., fought a bruising ten-round draw with Paulie Walker, of Trenton, N.J., tonight, in the feature bout of an all-star card in the Garden and received such an ovation as few youngsters do in their second start in the "big leagues."

For thirty minutes of wild action he fought an experienced, elusive form who hit him with everything except the water bucket and his flaming, never-say-die spirit caught the fancy of the crowd.

His eyes were puffed, there was a bad cut under the left eye; he had been hit time and again square on the chin with rights and lefts which whistled up almost from the floor and yet it was he who rushed out at the start of the tenth, his bruised features twisted in a grin, and yelled "Come on, Paulie, let's go!"

NEVER DISCOURAGED From the first gong Townsend was on top of Walker, slugging, slugging, slugging; swinging rights and lefts which the more experienced Walker picked off with his arms or his gloves, but the blonde boy from the Coast was never discouraged.

The first two rounds were more or less even, with Billy getting credit for forcing the fight, but Walker scoring the more telling punches with short jolts to the body and face. Billy got the range in the third and after a few wild rights had connected, Walker covered up and retreated around the ring with Townsend in close pursuit. Walker loosened up in the next and after cutting Townsend's eye kept the Vancouver boy tied up or on balance for the next three to take what appeared to be a winning edge.

In the tenth he further aided his cause with two terrific rights to Billy's jaw which had the youngster dizzy. But Billy, it seemed, had just begun to fight, and he swarmed over Paulie like a flock of hornets in the tenth to earn his draw.

STAMINA RATTLES WALKER If Townsend's handlers had any doubt as to whether Billy could "take it," they must have been convinced tonight he could. Several times Walker, who is no mean puncher, carefully measured the eager youngster and let fly with blows which landed as true as though aimed at a punching bag. But Billy never appeared to feel the punches, bounding back each time with a furious attack which visibly rattled Walker.

In the seventh round Townsend had Walker holding on with a two-fisted body attack, but his over-eagerness thwarted whatever chances he had for a knockout. Walker never again was in trouble and in the ninth slammed Billy with two rights which would have felled many fighters less durable, but the blonde terror kept learning in, with Walker a very discouraged boxer from there to the end of the bout.

The crowd greeted the decision with a chorus of boos, halted long enough to cheer Townsend's exit from the ring, and then resumed its booing and continued until the start of the next bout. Townsend weighed 143, and Walker, 147½. Vince Dundee, Newark, middleweight, who recently returned from a European invasion, defeated Solly Kreiger, New York, by a technical knockout in 2:46 of the eighth round of the last ten-round bout of the evening. Dundee weighed 159½ to 154½ for Kreiger.

PHIL EDWARDS BREAKS RECORD

Former Canadian Olympic Runner Stars as McGill Retains Championship

MONTREAL, Oct. 16 (CP).—With Phil Edwards, former Canadian Olympic runner now at McGill, lowering the Canadian intercollegiate mile record by two-fifths of a second, McGill University retained the Eastern Intercollegiate track and field championship here today. Another record was broken when R. G. Sampson, of McGill, ran the 800-yard event in 1:58.4.

The strong red and white team amassed a total of sixty-four points and regulated the University of Toronto squad, which gained fifty-two points, and the Queen's University contingent, which gathered ten points.

Edwards and John Hutchins each took two first places for McGill. Edwards smashed the nineteen-year-old mile mark set by E. H. Campbell, of Toronto, in 1912, covering the distance in 4 minutes and 31 seconds. He raced to a narrow victory in the quarter-mile dash over H. T. Hart, his teammate, in 51.3-5 seconds. Hutchins took the hurdle events.

Ralph Adams, of Toronto, member of the Canadian Olympic team in 1928, took both the 100 and 220-yard dashes without being extended.

Piet Van Kempen, of Holland, said of the greatest of all riders, with little Jules Rudy, ninety-eight-pound Montreal youngster, who is breaking into the game, will be one of the favorite teams. Another strong pair will be Torchy Peden, of Victoria, and Henri Lepage, of Montreal, winners of last Spring's race.

Thomas Hickey, president of the league, said that the two Canadian sportsmen conferred with him and that a lavish offer would be made for the franchise. The two bidders asked that their names be held secret.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 16 (AP).—R. J. Connelly, St. Paul Baseball Club president, today said he knew nothing of plans of Winnipeg men to purchase the local American Association franchise, but that he "would meet them at the station with a band" if they came with a suitable offer.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 16.—No confirmation of reports that Winnipeg sportsmen were bidding for the St. Paul franchise in the American Association could be obtained here today. Three or Four Easterners May Join Team for Japanese Tour Dissatisfaction over the arrangements made by the Dominion Rugby Association over the forthcoming tour of a Canadian English fifteen to Japan was voiced by the executive of the Victoria Rugby Union at its meeting yesterday evening in the Central Building. President V. L. Denton occupied the chair and, after the regular meeting adjourned, he tendered a report of the British Columbia Rugby Union's gathering held in Vancouver on Wednesday.

President Denton went over the proposed tour to Japan as outlined by President J. Fyfe Smith and Secretary Reggie Woodward, both of Vancouver, of the Canadian Association, at the Mainland meeting. According to the Vancouver officials, the fifteen will leave Victoria on the Empress of Canada on January 2, arriving at Yokohama on January 16.

THE SQUAD WILL LEAVE THE ORIENT on the Empress of Asia on February 13 and arrive in Vancouver on February 22. The party will be made up of twenty-four—twenty-two players, a manager and a coach. The majority of the team will be selected from Vancouver and Victoria, although three or four eastern players may join the party at Vancouver.

Members of the local union were not at all satisfied with the way the fifteen was going to be handled. At the Vancouver meeting President

RANGERS TO TAKE ON QUEEN'S PARK

LONDON, Oct. 16 (CP).—While the soccer spotlight on Saturday will naturally be turned on the international match between England and Ireland, one fixture in the English First Division cannot be beaten for attractiveness. It is the meeting between Everton and Sheffield Wednesday at Goodison Park.

Everton are now second in the championship table, while the Wednesday are contenders for top honors, though they have not been going so strong lately.

West Bromwich Albion, the pacesetters, will be at home to Liverpool and are expected to win and thus hold their position at the top of the table. In the Second Division, two of the stronger clubs, Leeds United and Wolverhampton Wanderers, clash.

In the Scottish First Division, Motherwell are just now on top. Tomorrow they will be at home to Hearts and should get the major points. Rangers and Queen's Park, who met last Saturday in the Glasgow Cup final, the Rangers winning, will meet again in a league match. Celtic have an away-from-home game at Dundee, and despite the evident weakness which developed in the Celtic's goal since the untimely death of John Thompson, who died from injuries received during a game with Rangers, the Glasgow eleven should not be beaten.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON The Tree-Chimbing Goats of Morocco—On the western coast of Morocco, where vegetation is comparatively scarce, the domestic goats are sometimes sorely pressed for food. Close examination of the larger branches of the argan trees of that district shows that the animals, for centuries wandering up and down, have worn actual runways in the trees. The goat has been a domesticated animal and an associate of man since the Stone Age, and as there are many indications that the Berbers may be a very ancient people, the idea is permissible that this practice of herding goats in the argan trees may be one of the most ancient of their customs.

The Master of a Thousand Musical Instruments—The Reverend F. W. Galpin, of Hatfield, Broad Oak, England, is the performer on a thousand instruments and owner of an extensive collection. He mastered such instruments as the mammoth bassoon, the bucin, the rummarsh, the argoud, the serpent, the rebe, the pibgorn, and a host of others of grotesque shapes and bizarre names. Some of the instruments would cause a great deal of amusement if brought into a modern concert room. Others are either modern or ancient versions of our present-day instruments.

LONDON, Oct. 16 (CP).—England opens its international soccer season on Saturday with a journey to Ireland. Although the English League team easily defeated an Irish League eleven last month, it is expected the Irish international side will make a better showing. Waring, the fine Aston Villa forward, has been brought in instead of Hampson, though the Blackpool player has scored three goals for the English League against Ireland. PATRICK AND CALDWELL AT LOGGERS HEADS

Coast Hockey President and Seattle Head Have Verbal Battle

SOUND CITY MAN ASKED TO GET OUT

SEATTLE, Oct. 16 (AP).—Either

Hugh Caldwell, president of the Seattle

Basketball League, will sell his interest in the team or step out, or Seattle will not have a team in the Pacific

Coast Hockey League this winter.

Seattle's Frank Patrick, Vancouver

president of the league, today, following a stormy meeting here yesterday, announced that Caldwell, who was reported to have a full attendance and the league needs Seattle worse than Seattle needs the league.

Patrick added that Caldwell's hockey interests will be so battered within the next ten days that the Seattle manager will be glad to give the club away. The league president said Caldwell would receive one,

two or possibly three propositions

shortly, and that he and Brother

Coy, who manages the Vancouver club, would withdraw their entry from professional hockey before going through another season with the Caldwell-Patrick feud seething.

WANTS OWN PRICE

And Caldwell replied: "I'll sell any time I get my price."

The first announcement made after the meeting that Tacoma,

Seattle, Portland and Vancouver would form the nucleus of the league this year with possibility teams would be entered from

Calgary and Edmonton, did not mention a verbal battle between Caldwell and Patrick.

After word of the argument leaked out, Patrick said that he had been asked to resign by Caldwell in favor of Dr. Clarence Spence, football coach at the University of Oregon.

"I tendered my resignation for the second time since May and the

MARX BROTHERS ARE STOWAWAYS

Humorous Incidents Aboard Ship Seen in "Monkey Business," Opening Today

If you want to treat yourself to a good hearty laugh, your attention is called to the comedy now playing at the Dominion Theatre. The picture is "Monkey Business," starring those incomparable comedians, the four Marx Brothers, the wild, woolly and loony comedians of "The Cocoanuts" and "Animal Crackers." In this rollicking entertainment, Groucho, Harpo, Chico and Zeppo are revealed as stowaways on a giant ocean liner. And, being the Marx Brothers, they simply do anything and everything that comes to their minds, running the ship to suit themselves and practically throwing the captain and the millionaire passengers in irons. In addition to merry antics, Chico finds time to play the piano and Harpo spares a moment to bring magic melodies from his harp.

Maude, this screen adaptation of Michael Arlen's play has all the advantage of a distinguished cast in support. Authentic glimpses of English country scenes, shipyards in Scotland and Croydon Aerodrome add much to the interest.

PLAYHOUSE What chance has a bachelor when a girl really sets her cap for him? Not a chance, apparently, in "Our Wives," at the Playhouse, for three of the four young bachelors become "the happiest men alive" when they meet the right girls—until they are married, and their wives meet for the first time. Words can scarcely convey the fun of that in "Our Wives."

FAVORITE FEMININE STAR TO SHOW HERE

Ethel Grimes, favorite character woman of the London and New York stage, adds a pointed portrayal to a brilliant cast, in Universal's "Waterloo Bridge," showing at the Capitol Theatre on Monday.

Miss Grimes' outstanding picture successes are "Old English" and "The Millionaire." She supports Mae Clarke and Kent Douglas in this screen version of the Robert E. Sherwood Broadway play, "James Whale directed."

WELL-CHOSEN CAST IN MUSICAL COMEDY

Aside from the exceptionally large cast of principals which have the more prominent speaking parts in "The Beauty Shop of 1931," the scintillating musical comedy which will be presented under the auspices of Gish Temple Shrine, there are a number of interesting groups all of which contribute to the general effect of the presentation. There have many of the singing and dancing numbers of which the piece boasts more than a score. These groups appear in many attractive and appropriate costumes, more than 250 costumes of varied type being used in the production. Three performances will be given in the Shrine Auditorium on the evenings of October 21, 22 and 23.

MAINTAIN EASY COMMUNICATION

I have frequently referred in these articles to the similarity between the strategy and tactics of war and those of contract. Before the opening bid the hands of the two partners are like allied armies seeking the same end—the defeat of an enemy—but cut off from each other and unaware of the strength or disposition of the friendly force with whom contact must be made if the desired end is to be achieved.

The bidding is the first step in the establishment of communications. Each step in the bidding is like the arrival of a courier carrying a dispatch revealing the strength and disposition of friendly forces.

Through the exchange of these messages the allied forces may safely determine whether they should attack or defend. It might be said in passing that the great disasters in contract, like the great disasters in war, occur when those having the final decision as to attack or defence make the wrong choice. However, today's story deals more with the question of keeping up uninterrupted the lines of communications once established, through providing easy entry and exit from one hand to the other in the play rather than any-

Security Prices Mount Steadily At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP).—While United States Government and many other high-grade bonds plainly showed the effects of higher money rates, stocks and commodities gained strength today and sentiment in financial circles seemed to move up a notch or two with them. Except the first quarter-hour and a brief interval of afternoon profit-taking, prices advanced all day and there was a final spurt at the close. The net advance averaged 2 1/2 points. Trading again was relatively dull, the turnover amounting to 1,420,735 shares.

United States Steel, which has a dividend meeting soon, looked as though its sponsors were confident the regular payment would be voted, closing 21-1/2 higher. General Electric and General Electric were up 1/2 point. American Telephone rallied more than 3 points. Westinghouse, American Can, National Biscuit, Woolworth, Paramount, Loews, North American, United Corporation, American and Foreign Power, and Consolidated Gas advanced 1/2 point to more than 2. In the rails, Atchafalpa's gain was 5-1/2; Southern Pacific's 3-7/8; New Haven's 3-3/8; New York Central, 2-5/8, and Baltimore & Ohio, 2-1/2.

Most carriers were up at least a point. Gold exports amounted to about $44,000,000, but there was a decrease of $7,732,000 in earmarkings and imports of $8,412,000 at New York and San Francisco, which brought the net loss to slightly more than $28,000,000.

Foreign exchanges eased slightly because of the higher interest rates available here, although sterling closed unchanged at $3.87 1/2. Fluctuations in the bond market today were very mixed. United States Government bonds declined to a greater degree than ever before this year. High-grade and gilt-edged corporate issues were generally lower, principally as a response to the advance in money rates. Many second-grade bonds, particularly rail issues, made good gains.

WHEAT PRICES

MOVE UPWARD

Demand From Seaboard

Sends Quotations Higher

at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Oct. 16 (CP).—Renewed substantial purchases by houses with seaboard connections, together with improvement in foreign markets, strengthened wheat prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Final prices showed net gains of from 3-4 to 1-1/4 cents. October, at 55 7/8, was up 1-1/4, while November was 1-1/8 higher at 56 1/8. December 3-4 to 7-8 at 56 1/4 and May 2-4 at 56 1/4.

Despite the fact the market has been absorbing three million bushels of wheat daily from country points, hedging made little impression on today's trading.

A good demand readily consumed all offerings of top grade cash and elevator wheat. The large grains, with the exception of oats, presumably for export, were extremely negligible and no sales were reported.

WATER SYSTEM IS CRITICIZED

Delinquent Accounts Due to Collection Methods, Say Saanich Ratepayers' Body Claims

A heated debate occurred at last night's meeting of the Saanich Central Ratepayers' Association at Tolmie School, over the collection of water bills by the municipality and the extent to which accounts have been allowed to fall in arrears. The present system is to send bills out by mail after which the householders either pay at the Royal Oak Municipal Hall or send cheques or money orders through the mail.

The old system was favored by the meeting, and there was considerable criticism of the councilors for not having reverted to the old method whereby the meter-reader collected the bill at the same time as he read the meter.

MANY BAD ACCOUNTS
It was due to this new system of collecting that some 600 accounts had fallen into arrears. Protests were voiced over the inadequacy of the council to deal with the situation. Bills should not be allowed to become in arrears as long as two years.

Criticism also was voiced over the method of charging delinquent bills to the property instead of the persons who owed them. Such a system, it was said, worked a hardship on the landlord or person who took over the house. Bills as high as $50 had been presented to persons who owned houses, but had never used the water. These delinquent water-users should be made to pay their bills regardless of the fact that they may have moved. It was declared.

Business has been fairly brisk along wholesale reds this week with McIntosh Red apples finding a steadily increasing market.

Yesterday morning a mixed car of oranges, lemons and grapefruit arrived from California, while a little later in the day a shipment of pomegranates and pomegranates reached at Comox.

A consignment of Concord grapes are due in on Tuesday. Coming from the interior, this will be the first shipment of British Columbia Concord grapes ever to reach the city this year.

Not Words But Work Is Wanted

Work routed a Communist meeting here yesterday.

Upwards of seventy-five unemployed waited for jobs outside the Government Employment Bureau while Communist speakers prepared to hold a meeting on a vacant lot nearby, to protest against the deportation of one of their members. Before the meeting could get under way an order was received by the bureau for eighty-four men for relief work. They were all signed up and left the vicinity while the speakers held—the vacant lot. "Work, not words, is what we want," the men agreed.

CONFIDENCE OF BUYER RETURNS

Michael Stein, Sales Manager of Tip Top Tailors, Limited, Sees Business Revival

A distinct note of optimism was struck by Michael Stein, general sales and advertising manager of the Tip Top Tailors, Limited, who left Victoria last night after a short visit here. Mr. Stein has been making an extensive tour of the Dominion for the purpose of surveying business conditions in connection with his particular line, and he reports a distinct improvement, especially in the Western Provinces. Mr. Stein stated: "In my opinion the depression, in many cases largely mental, is slowly lifting with the resumption of buying confidence. The public response to our selling efforts is larger this year than at a similar period last fall."

Mr. Stein said that Tip Top Tailors, Limited, strictly a Canadian firm, has whenever possible given preference to Empire-made fabrics and now Canadian wools are used more than ever before. The quality of materials produced in the Dominion has improved amazingly and in every case the mills are working at full time.

Tip Top Tailors, Limited, is the largest "one-price" ready-to-wear manufacturing chain in the world, employing 1,200 in the factories at Toronto and maintaining factories throughout the Dominion. The same standard of service is maintained in every one of the branches and the public response has more than justified their efforts.

HANNA, Alta., Oct. 16 (CP).—Ten-year-old Murray Halverson lies in hospital here with a bullet in the back of his brain. He is in a precarious condition, doctors state, but there is a chance for recovery, although the bullet passed through the brain.

Mr. Gault replaces in this position Camille Houde, leader of the provincial Conservative party, who, having no seat in the House, is unable to guide the parliamentary party.

Twitcheall Becomes Suspicious

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Suspicion you will always find destructive to peace of mind. —Twitcheall the Squirrel.

Twitcheall the Ground Squirrel felt uneasy. Just why he felt uneasy he didn't know himself. It was just a feeling that something was wrong; that some unknown danger threatened. No one could see him. No one could hear him. He felt that he was being watched and he was not alone.

Twitcheall had appeared and the old ones were no more active than usual. Now that Flip the Terrier ignored him he had one less to worry about than before. Just the same he was uneasy. He soon found that Mrs. Twitcheall had the same feeling. He would find her leaving her household cares to run to the door and peer out with an anxious look on her face.

"What is it, my dear?" he asked. "I don't know," she replied. "I just have a feeling that something dreadful may happen and I know of no reason under the sun for such a feeling. It is foolish, I know, but I can't help it."

Twitcheall nodded gravely. "I know, my dear," said he. "I feel the same way myself. Yes, sir, I do. I feel just as I have felt some times when an unseen enemy has been creeping up on me. I haven't seen him or heard him or smelled him, yet somehow I have felt his presence. It is just that way now. I have the same feeling. I have had it all day, but not a single enemy has appeared."

Mrs. Twitcheall appeared not to be listening. She was watching some men going through the wheat field and through the orchard and among the trees over on the hillside where she used to live. They seemed to be very busy about something. Presently one came toward them. At once one Twitcheall and Mrs. Twitcheall scampered inside their home. Later when they ventured out the man was nowhere to be seen.

However, he was soon forgotten in the discovery of something that made their eyes shine. It was a spoonful or two of barley just out of a "job ring" operating in the field, and if there was anything better than barley the Twitchealls haven't discovered it. It was Mrs. Twitcheall who first saw it. "Oh, see what has been left right at our very door!" she cried, and ran toward it.

She had just reached it when Twitcheall was pushed back aside. She thought it was because he was greedy and wanted all of it for himself. "You selfish thing!" she began and stopped. Twitcheall wasn't eating any himself, but was smelling of it in a way that she knew meant that he suspected something might be wrong with it. "Don't touch a grain of it," he commanded. "I'm not going to and

B.C. DELEGATES OFF TO CALGARY

Round-Table Conference of Four Western Provinces Set for October 19

Premier Tolmie, accompanied by Attorney-General Pooley and Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, will leave the city today, en route to Calgary, where a conference between the four Western Provinces will open on Monday. Legislative council will accompany the delegation from this province.

Simplification of collection of Federal and provincial income taxes; determination of the respective tax fields open to Dominion and provincial administrations; unemployment measures and, possibly, gasoline prices are points on the agenda for discussion, it is understood.

British Columbia, in particular, will seek a clearer understanding with its provincial neighbors as to the flow of transients over the British Columbia boundary line from Western Provinces, a movement that has been found one of considerable embarrassment to the administration of relief operations in this province.

NO FIXED AGENDA
No fixed agenda for the conference has been placed in the hands of the British Columbia government, but the understanding yesterday was that the conference would set its own pace when in session.

After the Calgary gathering, Premier Tolmie will visit several British Columbia areas on his way back to the coast to examine conditions at first hand and to meet public bodies at the various centers.

R. W. Bruhn and Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe will also be out of town at the week-end, the former on a tour of public works in Northern areas.

TEACHERS OPEN ANNUAL MEETING

Convention of Central Vancouver Island Institute Starts at Nanaimo—Mayor Extends Welcome

NANAIMO, Oct. 16.—With A. B. Towell, superintendent of city schools, occupying the chair, and Mayor Hall extending a hearty welcome, the opening meeting of Central Vancouver Island Teachers' Institute annual convention was held last evening in St. Andrew's United Church.

John Shaw, chairman of the Board of School Trustees in Nanaimo, spoke briefly, and hoped they would consider well the problems to come before them in their deliberations, and that they would be for the welfare of the schools. George S. Pearson, M.P.P., also gave a brief address.

The principal speaker of the evening was I. Dilworth, president of the B.C.T.F., who took as his topic, "In Times Like These," dealing with education and its relation to present-day conditions. A school choir, under the direction of Miss Pearson, sang a group of songs.

THE DOT CARTOONIST, BY GEORGE BELL

No wonder Uncle Sam is happy. His hero crossed the Atlantic alone, and made a perfect landing at night in a foreign country. Uncle Sam says "three cheers and . . . off!" (Kindly draw straight lines between the numbers.)

These pies she would place upon her pantry shelves, labeling each pie according to the day of the week on which it was to be eaten, after which she used to say that her pantry was in apple-pie order.

This scheme was remarked upon by visiting neighbors, who adopted it, together with her colorful phrase. Dame Merton may have got her idea for the expression from the fact that "order" is an old word for a row, and a properly made apple-pie had, of old, an order or row of regularly-cut tunnels, or an exactly divided border.
